

What happened to humanpoweredadventure.com?

Dear Visitors to HumanPoweredAdventure.com,

As you have found, the forum aspect of this website is no longer online. This is good and bad news. The bad news is that we have decided to no longer support the forum on HumanPoweredAdventure.com. The good news is that at the time of posting this letter, we are very close to launching a new aspect of the main Outdoor Research website called VertiCulture. VertiCulture is the next evolution in the website that is our watering hole for Human Powered Adventure. HumanPoweredAdventure.com was our very first experiment with trying to bring together a community of HPA enthusiasts which was a success in many ways. So have no fear, the community is not going away, but just moving to a new and greatly improved venue.

Lab Rat is still available on this site and we are still 100% committed to the program. We'll keep you posted on new updates to the Lab Rat program and a new website for this as well.

Stay tuned for the new VertiCulture website. Once the site is live, there will be a link for VertiCulture on the main www.outdoorresearch.com navigation.

This link will direct you to the VertiCulture site. We are looking forward to launching the new site and would like to invite you to visit the new site.

Thanks for the ongoing support! We are looking forward to seeing the Human Powered Adventure community continue to grow.

Sincerely,

The Team at Outdoor Research
